

SINO-DUTCH FORUM OF ANTIBIOTIC USE AND RESISTANCE CONTAINMENT

VERSION 0.9

BIMONTHLY-FORUM NO [X] DRAFT PROPOSAL AND INVITATION

Antibiotic use has been proven to be a key driver of antibiotic resistance. China made progress in regulating the use of antibiotics in recent years. However, gaps could be measured against global best practice. The Netherlands has gained reputation in managing antibiotic utilization both in humans and animals, and biological technologies have extensively been applied to reduce antibiotic residuals in natural environment.

The Shanghai Health Development Research Centre (SHDRC) will host a forum on this topic, together with the Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands and its Consulate-General in Shanghai. We would like to invite decision-makers and stakeholders to share with insights on this issue.

1. Theme        Sino-Dutch forum of antibiotic use and resistance containment
2. Time         September 23th, Friday, 13:30 -17:10
3. Place        Shanghai Hotel ( Urumqi Road North 505# ) Room Chun Shen
4. Participants (80 estimated)
  - Decision-makers of national, municipal and district level, from health, insurance, development and reform, agriculture, environment protection, and Shengkang public hospital managing centre.

- Stakeholders from Antibiotic Insitute of Huashan Hospital, municipal centre of clinical pharmacy quality assurance, infectious disease specialists, clinical microbiologists, pharmacists, and managerial experts.
- Policy analysts from the coordinating network of health policy research.
- Invited researchers from municipal fund of healthcare development.

5. Inquiries

- Miss He Da heda@shdrc.org
- Mr Lin Hai lin\_hai@hotmail.com
- Mr Sam Linsen (co-host) shanghai@hollandinnovation.cn

- 6. drafted agenda

Morning session (not part of official program, TBD)
9:00-11:30	pre-session, visit to Antibiotics Institute, Huashan Hospital
Afternoon session
Hosted by Professor Jin Chunlin, Head of SHDRC
13:30-13:40	Welcome by Professor Xiao Zeping, deputy director of Shanghai Municipal Commission of Health and Family Planning
13:40-14:00	Antibiotic use regulation in China: progress and the way forward, by Li Dachuan, director of the division of healthcare and nursing, bureau of healthcare affairs, national committee of Health and Family Planning
14:00-14:20	Resistance against antibiotics in surveillance of China and Shanghai municipality, by Wang Minggui, Professor, director of Antibiotics Institute, Huashan Hospital, Fudan University.
14:20-14:40	Antibiotic consumption in Shanghai (2009-2014): a surveillance system based on sales data and new findings, by Dr Lin Hai, SHDRC
14:40-15:00	Coffee break
15:00-15:20	AMR and Antibiotics usage and surveillance in the Netherlands, focusing on medical sector (topic to be confirmed), by Tjalling Leenstra, National Institute for Public Health and the Environment (RIVM)
15:20-15:40	The critical factors for a nationwide major reduction of antimicrobial use in animals in the Netherlands with a parallel reduction in antimicrobial resistance (topic to be confirmed), by Jaap Wagenaar, Netherlands Centre for One Health (NCOH)
15:40-16:00	Pollution from Antibiotic Production: A hidden cause of Antibiotic Resistance, by Xian Ming, Chief Strategy Officer of DSM Sinochem Pharmaceutical (DSP)
16:00-17:00	Panel discussions, questions & answers. Five speakers and invited clinicians (Wang Minggui, Yang Fan, Hu Bijie, Wu Wenhui, Yan Qing, Zhuo Chao), about ten chairs
17:00-17:10	Closing remarks Professor Hu Shanlian, SHDRC
18:00-	Dinner / Networking